The Recent Stabbing Apprax Near the Basemon House.—Frank Schock and Jacob Schroeder, arrested some days ago for stabbing Frank Resenecker and Adam Seiter, last Saturday night, near the Brighton House, were arraigned before Judge Lowe, yesterday morning. Schock was discharged, and Schroeder was committed, in default of bail in the sum of $500 to answer the charge of malicious stabbing, at the next term of of malicious stabbing, at the next term the Court of Common Pleas.

L'Hommedieu, the President of the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton Railroad.

Sufficient Cause for Stuffert.—While sipping a cup of the Goethean beverage, a morning or two since, as is our wont after our daily journalistic duties have been performed, in a certain Vine-street coffee saloon, we overheard a couple of well-known politicians discussing the merits of their favorite candidates. In reply to an argument that had been advanced, one of them said: "Why you are positively and absolutely stupid."
"Stupid." exclaimed the other, half in jest and half in earnest, "are you aware, sir, that the citizens of the — Ward elected me six times to represent them in the City Council. "Well, no," was the reply, "but if that be true, you are not to blame for being stupid. Any man who could live through the boredom of six times in the City Council has certainly a sufficient cause for his stupidity, however great it may be."

The joke was eminently relished by the ex-Councilman, who immediately cried out, "Waiter! coffee for two."

REMARKABLE CASE OF JUVENILE WISDOM—A CRILD WITH THREE FATHERS.—While passing along Fourth-street, a day or two ago, we met a very pretty little girl, about four or five years of age, whose bright eyes betrayed more than an ordinary degree of intelligence; and whose auburn ringlets, sunny face and rose-bud mouth, were admirably adapted to make her a fuvorite with the most investment. make her a favorite with the most inveterat child-hating bachelor. Her pensiveness im mediately attracted our attention, and, offer-ing her our hand, we exclaimed, "Well, ma ing her our hand, we exciaimed, "well, ma chere petite, what's your name?"

"Sarah Ellen B—," replied the child, placing her hand in ours with a frankness and adiete that was almost charming, "Where's your papa?" asked we, patting her peachy cheek and caressing her curls, which, "brown in the shadow, golden in the suu," hung in graceful clusters about her delicate throat.

"Oh!" said she, "I have three fathers; one in California, one in Pike's Peak, and one in New York."

her extraordinary wisdom struck as quite forcibly, and giving uer a piece of money, she rapidly rau off to purchase some bon-bons. We have no doubt the little fairy told the truth; but it is not often that children can arrive at such an accurate physiological knowledge as to enable them to determine the exact number of their papas.

MEETING OF THE TRUSTEES OF THE WATERWORKS.—At their regular meeting, the Board of Trustees of the Water-works ordered water-pipes to be laid on Budd-street, and also, on Seventh-street, west. Superintendent Phillips was directed to proceed with laying the twenty-inch pipe from Broadway west along Pearl. The work to commence on Monday, July 23. The petition to have pipe laid in Wade-street, between John and Cutter, was rejected, for the reason that there were not sufficient signers. A copy of the resolution passed by the City Conneil, in reference to raising the grade of Pearl-street bridge, was read and ordered to be filed. The Secretary submitted a comparative statement of the receipts of the past quarter and the corresponding quarter for the last year, from which it appears that the receipts last year were $49,901 15, and for this year, $47,647 61, making a difference of $2,243 54 and y, notwithstanding the large reduction made in the rates of water-rents. Communications were received from the Engineer of the Works, from the Park Commissioners, relative to the supply of fountains in Washington Park, and from S. H. Goodin, Ess., relative to the supply of fountains in Washing-ton Park, and from S. H. Goodin, Esq., rela-tive to the park and reservoir project, now before Conneil. The Superintendent was or-dered to have the waters of the two Miamis

An "Unholy Storm."—We are under obligations to J. Y. Anthony, Esq., for a role of antiquity, to which, for sundry reasons, and especially to distinguish it from another article of curiosity which is now attracting some attention, we have given the name which stands at the head of this paragraph. It is, to appearance, a bowlder of flesh-colored granite, of the exact size of the heads of some infants, and weighing—at a guess—near four pounds. It varies from a perfect sphere only in being slightly prolate in its outline—in that respect resembling those forms which organic nature loves to produce, both in its animal and vegetable domains; from one extremity starts what now bears a strong resemblance to a vein of white quarts, which passes in an irregular line nearly around the stone—suggesting the idea of a cord, by which it may have been, at some remote period, suspended.

it may have been, at some remote period, suspended.

That in its origin it dates from a period very remote, there can be no doubt. If conjectures were admissible upon so grave a point of antiquarian lore, we should be indicated to give it an Adamic, or at least an antediluvian beginning—suggestive as it is of a time when the effects of the fall were but partly realized or perhaps still more vividity of that period concerning which it is recorded, "There were giants in those days."

Sum of $1,500.

Bunglary in Chark-street.—The house of a man named Brashears in Clark-street, mear Cutter, was feloniously centered night before last and robbed of a sum of money and a quantity of jewelry, amounting in the aggregate to nearly forty dollars.

During the lastfive years, 1,960 persons have been sentenced to imprisonment, in London, for aggravated assaults on their wives or other women.

LAW REPORT.

Deteration Unter Payment of Fire—Hamas Corpus.—Maria Wells, a colored woman, was found guilty, under an ordinance of the city, of harboring prostitutes, and was ordered by the Police Judge to be imprisoned in the City Work-house for the term of ten days, and to pay a fine of $50 and costs of prosecution. She served out the time of imprisonment, and immediately on the fulfillment of that part of the sentence there was an execution issued for the fine, and a return made of "no goods whereon to levy." By virtue of the ca. sa, she was now held in custody, and the question presented upon the hearing of the writ of habeas corpus was whether this was a legal detention.

Judge Hilton, in disposing of the case, remarked that the law specially provides that the Mayor or other officers, of any incorporated village or city, may, in imposing a fine for the violation of an ordinance, order the party to stand committed until payment of fine, or until discharged by due course of law. The ordinance was passed directly to fulfill the conditions of the law, and this woman was imprisoned under a cs. st. by virtue of that ordinance. She had committed a grievous offense against the morals and good order of society. Only a few days had elapsed since the sentence of imprisonment had expired, and the Court could not see that she had been subjected to a cruel or unfaual punishment. She must stand committed until the fine and costs are paid, or until otherwise legally discharged.

City Council—Proceedings Last Niger.

CITY COUNCIL—PROCEEDINGS LAST NIGHT. An extra session of the City Council was held last night, President Torrence in the chair. The special order, being the following resolu-tion, was taken up:

Resolved. That the Board of City Improvements be directed to contract for the improvement of the City Buildings, according to the plans and specifications proposed by Anderson & Hamsford, for that purpose, provided the cost of such work shall not exceed $20,000, and that the same shall be completed on or before the 2tth day of October, 1500.

previded the cost of such work shall not exceed $30,000, and that the same shall be completed on or before the 24th day of October, 1850.

Mr. Walker said that the first question to be decided was, whether any new accommodations for the city officers were needed. On this point, he read from the last annual message of the Mayor, to show that the present buildings were entirely insufficient. When they were built, it was expected at some future day that another story would be crected upon the present foundation. At that time there were fewer officers than now; and while the accommodatious were then sufficient, they are not at this time. The old atructure cost $22,568, to which has since been added a little over $3,500 for repairs. At present, office rents, for rooms outside the building, amounts to $3,000 annually. The present foundations are as good as those of any building in the city, and business can be as well done in a bouse costing $20,000, as in one worth three-quarters of a million, which will be about the cost of a fine City Building, such as some have proposed to erect.

Mr. Marsh contended that there would be no necessity for an enlargement of the present buildings for at least six or seven years. Office rents did not amount to much—considerably less than the interest on $20,000. He ridiculed the idea of erecting another story upon the present foundations.

Mr. Weasner contended that the proposed improvement was necessary; but as there was barely a quorum of members present, he thought the matter ought not to be considered now, and he moved to lay the subject over for one week, and make it the special order, which was carried.

now, and he moved to lay the subject over for one week, and make it the special order, which was carried.

Mr. Perry offered a resolution declaring the necessity of a new roof on the Court-street Market-house, and providing for savertise-ments for proposals for the work. Mr. Perry said that he offered the resolution, but would not vote for it we have in favor of abulish.

Mr. Noble offered a resolution directing the City Commissioners to furnish stone for new flag crossings, at the intersections of the streets across the Pendleton and Fifth-street Railroad line. Lost.

A resolution was offered, instructing the Board of City Improvements to notify the Cincinnati Street Railroad Company to take up their track from Freeman to Linn-street. Laid on the table.

An ordinance for the protection of the parks of the city was presented and passed.

the following work:

To build three brick culverts of four feet interior diameters, to pass the water under Sycamore. Walnut and Vine-streects, from Pearl to Water-street.

The contract to build stone culvert of five feet interior diameter, to pass the water from the intersection of Third and Martin-streets, under Third and Parson-streets, to a point 270 feet south of Front-street, was awarded to Burns and Keiffer at $2.20 per lineal foot for culvert; well-holes, per perch, $2.50; excavation, per cubic yard, eight cents; and repaving twenty-six cents per square yard.

Mr. Gilbert, City Civil Engineer, submitted a plat and estimate for paving the unpaved sidewalks on the north side of Ninthstreet, from Mound to Linn, and the Clerk was instructed to prepare an ordinance to assess a special tax upon the real estate bounding said improvement.

On motion of Mr. Stagge the Clerk was instructed to prepare and transmit to the City Council an ordinance to grade and Macadamize Southern-avenue from Sycamore-street to the east line of the school lot on Mt. Auburn.

On mation of Mr. Horton, the Clerk was instructed to advertise for proposals to fur-

THE WALTON TRAGEDY IN NEW YORK—MES. WALTON'S TESTIMONY.—The Examination in this case is still progressing in New York, and on Wednesday Mrs. Ellen M. Walton, wife of the man first murdered, and formerly of this city, prefaced her testimony with a statement that her family difficulties had been misrepresented; that she and her children were persecuted by her late husband's family, and that she would not testify for the sake of exposing family difficulties.

She was at home on the night of the murder, from ten o'clock in the evening. At six o'clock she had visited a family mamed Morse, opposite her husband's store, returned thence home to dinner, then she went out to buy her son Frunk some shoes, and on the wav called at Pickering's, (her husband's nucle) but did not go in because she was told "Mother Walton" was there; first heard of her husband's murder in the Sunday morning papers.

her husband's murder in the Sunday morning papers.

She knew Mr. Walton had enemies, among them was a Mr. Grey, whom he dispossessed of a porter house; an Irishman, whose horse and eart he had sold, and who had threatened to have satisfaction, if he died for it; a brother-in-law of Mr. Kehoe, his salesman, with whom he had some difficulty about property, and a man named Williams, who had threatened that Mr. Walton should see his day of retribution. Mr. Walton had also a decided animosity towards Mr. Yelverton, through jealousy, and carried a pistol for him, and thought it probable the feeling was reciprocated, as Mr. Walton had publicly insulted him.

relates the following shocking case:

"Ellen M., a child, four years old, of W. A.
Storia, A. M., died on the night of the 8th inst., of starvation, it having had no food for four days. Mr. Storia is in ill-health, and is anable to procure any kind of work to get a living, and his wife having had no work for several weeks, they are reduced to the most pinched and starving condition. The woman who attempted to commit suicide on last Friday, by throwing herself off the Battery, was Mrs. Storia. I am happy to state that this poor family bear an irreproachable character, and are both members in good standing of St. James's Church. Mr. Storia says he will sooner starve than beg or steal. He is willing to work at any thing that is honest, to get a living."

MYSTERIOUS DISAPPEARANCE AND SINGULAR CONSEQUENCE.—Morris Beardaley, a prominent business man of Syracuse, N. Y., disappeared last spring, and for three months his friends were unable to obtain any information in regard to him. On Sunday evening last a man and his wife who were passing the village cemetery at Batavia, N. Y., discovered a man upon the grass within the enclosure, apparently in the agonies of death. He lived long enough to tell his residence, but died before medical aid could be procured. The dead man was found to be the missing Mr. Beardsley. It has not yet been discovered where he was hidden, or what he was engaged in during the three months of his absence from home.

Secuet Sessions or the Universe States

SECRET SESSIONS OF THE USITED STATES SENATE.—It is a fact little known, that, for the first five years of our Government, the United States Senate always sat in secret. The first time the doors were opened for public discussion was on the contest as to the right of Albert Gallatin to a seat in the Senate. The seat was contested on the ground that Mr. G. had not been, as the Constitution required, nine years a citizen of the United States.

Amusing Anecdote of the Late Colone

Amusing Anecdote of the Late Colone!

Presson—A Senator Mistaken for a Black-leg.

Many of our readers remember the stately presence, the dignified bearing and imposing manner of Col. William C. Preston, of South Carolina. It was when all these qualities were in their prime, and Preston represented his State in the Senate of the United States, that business or pleasure called him fo the West, and to take passage down the Mississippi River. In those "flush times" the steamers swarmed with hoosiers, greenhorns and gamblers, the latter politely designated "sporting gentlemen," the term "gambler" or "blackleg" catalling on the speaker a pistol shot or a wipe from a Bowie-knife.

The boat was on the eve of departure, and our Senator, standing on deck and holding a small mahogany box, was observing with great interget and pleasure the busy scene on the wharf, when an individual, luxuriating in a rather ornate style of dress, approached him, and in subdued tones demanded:

"I say, old feller, when are you going to commence?"

"Commence what, sir?" asked the astonished Senator.

"Pshaw; none of that gammon with mel The fact is, a few of us boys on board want a little fun, and we won't pile it on too strong for you; so come and open at once."

"Really, sir," replied Preston, "I am totally at a loss to guess your meaning; open what?"

"Open what! Why, the bank, of course. Maybe you think that our pile isn't large enough to make it an object. But we're not so poor as all that, any how!"

The Senator meditated gloomity, but all was dark to him; he was plunged in a sea of doubt, and he had never met any problem, not even a political one; so hard to solve.

"Perhaps," broke in his pertinacious friend again, after a considerable pause, "perhaps you will say directly that you are not a sporting man."

"I certainly am nothing of the kind, sir," rejoined Preston, rather angrily; and I can't imagine what put the idea into your head."

"Not a sporting man! Whew-wi I never heard of such a piece of impudence! Well, if you're not a s dressing-case, and displayed the usual parade of brushes, combs, razors, soap, &c., which usually fill that article of traveling comfort. Our friend looked at the case, then at Preston again. Then he heaved a long sigh, and then he pondered.

"Well" he broke out at length, "I did take you to be a sporting gentleman—I did; but now I see you are a barber, but if I'd known it, hang me if I had a spoke to you!" And so saying he "vamoosed."

Fancy the feelings of our honorable Senator, as he assumed these various characters in the eyes of an anxious stranger.

Perilous Adventure — An Æronaut Crossing Lake Michigan in a Balloon.— Prof. Steiner, the celebrated erronaut, whose ascension from Cleveland, in this State, and Prof. Steiner, the celebrated aeronaut, whose ascession from Cleveland, in this State, and perilous adventure on Lake Erie will be remembered by our readers, made his eightyninth ascension on the Fourth of July, from Milwaukie, Wis., his intention being to cross the lake to Grand Haven. The trip was an adventurous one. At first he shot upward to the hight of 12,000 feet, when he got into a heavy thunder-storm. For half an hour he sped through rain, thunder, lightning and cold. The balloon became wet, and descended rapidly, so that the ballast had to be thrown overboard.

On ascending again, after the storm had blown over, he struck a second-storm, and had to throw over every thing, even his overcoat, but without avail. The balloon struck the water, and, as a last resource, Steiner climbed into the cordage and cut away the car. The balloon shot upward to the hight of 5,000 feet in three minutes, and a landing was shortly afterward effected near the mouth of the Kalamazoo River, having successfully crossed Lake Michigan. The entire length of the voyage was 103 miles, and occupied two hours and thirty minutes.

DRATH OF THE TALLEST MAN IN FRANCE.—
The tallest man in France has just expired, near Rouen, at the age of seventy-one, being M. Charles Gruel, d'Indreville, of Nesle, Normandy, who founded, and for many years carried on some extensive glass-works at that place. His stature was nearly seven feet six inches English, and his body was stout in proportion. In early life he entered the Imperial army as a private soldier; but soon gained the rank of sub-licutement. He was present in the battless of Wagram and Moscow. At one time he was a prisoner of war, and having fallen ill, was sent to the hospital of Konigaberg. This hospital was sacked by the Russians, and M. Gruel was thrown out into the street, and he passed a whole night in the sacw with scarcely any covering. He, however, recovered and returned to DRATH OF THE TALLEST MAN IN FRANCE.
